Teacher Responsibilities

What is Sergeant Tommy Prince School looking for in a teacher?

Sergeant Tommy Prince School is looking to hire well-educated teachers. Some knowledge and experience of First Nations cultures is considered an asset.

Teachers are encouraged to learn and practice the Ojibway language with their students. A teacher's top priority should be providing high-quality education to First Nations students.

Average day

Teachers typically arrive at 7:30 a.m. and finish around 4:00 p.m. They get a lunch break during the day. The school recently implemented a semester system, where classes are grouped into one hour sections. Three classes are taught in the morning, followed by a lunch break. Study halls and gym classes occur after lunch. Electives take place in the afternoon until the end of the school day.

Other responsibilities

Teachers are responsible for bus, field trip, recess and lunch supervision. Teachers are asked to be role models both in and out of the classroom.

Teacherages

There are no teacherages in the community. Teachers usually commute from nearby communities such as Selkirk or other area towns.

Distance from the school

Accommodations are available with a 20 to 80km radius.

Wi-Fi/cellular service

Wi-Fi and cellular service are generally available in Brokenhead and nearby communities.

Community Life

Highlights

The main highlight of the community is the open and scenic landscape, with fields and rivers that are perfect for hiking, fishing, swimming, golfing and boating. Nearby Patricia and Grand Beaches are popular swimming spots.

Community life

Brokenhead Ojibway Nation hosts activities throughout the year. Popular events include an annual golf tournament, traditional powwow, and Treaty Days.

Apart from the surrounding landscape, South Beach Casino and Resort is a major hot spot for both visitors and community members alike. This luxury casino is located on the reserve with a popular restaurant buffet.

Services

Brokenhead Ojibway Nation has all of the essential services. Some of these services include a gas bar, grocery store, restaurants, and gaming centre. For all other necessities, Winnipeg, Manitoba's largest city, is only 64 km away. Services are available within a forty five minute drive.
